A 'basic framework'

INTRODUCTION.....

It is being argued that an extended age limit of getting license can be a most effective way to promote safe driving on roads. Personally, I disagree with this point of view because I believe that several other measures could be just as beneficial as this method to ensure road safety.

MAIN PARAGRAPH 1.....

On the one hand, it is true that governments must think of increasing legal age for being a driver in order to make sure roads safer.

MAIN PARAGRAPH 2.....

On the other hand, I also believe that other road safety measures should also be introduced to encourage people to drive more safety.

CONCLUSION.....

In conclusion, while I accept that people should be allowed to drive a motor vehicle later than the already existing age limit, it seems to me that government can also try other viable steps on equal measures to reduce accidents.
